Message Chairperson/ Founder

Welcome to Edukey Uganda 2022 Annual programs and projects report, a medium where we unleash the transpiration of the year ending. Here through are the progress, achievements and challenges encountered during the year ended while implementing the organization programs and projects in the operation areas in Uganda.

Edukey management and beneficiaries would like to thank Mr. Arasu, Sister Anna Scotborgh, ICC Church, Meinhard Holding bv. Crux engineering bv, EG de Ark Church and Emporia State University for supporting the organization in running and implementing the activities and projects that were implemented in 2022 and benefited a number of vulnerable people in the community.

Great thanks also go to the staff that have been there and worked to realize the achievements registered during the year 2022. The staff have been worked through challenges but managed to register the accomplishments as here in the report.

One of the major achievements of Edukey was the acquisition of a three acreage land for the Edukey community school in Mukono. We are now planning to construct a school that will accommodate the over whelming number of needy children to have education. Construction of a school requires funds which the organization does not have. It is upon this that I call upon those who can support Edukey to construct a community school to promote the right to education of children especially the vulnerable one in the community.

Your support towards the school construction project will be appreciated by management and the beneficiaries.

God Bless you all

Tailoring

The organization is empowering the community members in particular the mothers with tailoring skills. The objective is to help those who have not acquired any hands on skills to become self-reliant and support their families.

Women from the community training in tailoring

Hair dressing

Community members who did not have an opportunity to get hands on skills are being empowered with such skills that can help them to become self-employed and earn something for their living. Hair dressing training is conducted at Edukey centre among women and girls who dropped out of school. This skill is helping many women to earn a living and support their families with essential domestic needs. The year ending a total number of 48 community members have benefited in the skills training.

Economic empowerment

As a way of empowering the women to be self-reliant, a savings and credit loan scheme was introduced where women in the community save and borrow to boost their small business. The organizations loan scheme supports the community members with soft loans at a low and affordable interest rate as compared to other lending institutions. This is a revolving loan and during the year 35 members benefited in this scheme. The challenges being encountered in this scheme is the little money invested in it and the rate at which the members pay back their loans. The economy which has gone down also has affected the loan project in that the rate at which business is going is low hence the returns.

Volunteer and Internship
